

Building Stronger Families

The program can help you to:

- Start a safe life for you, your former or current partner and your children.
- See your unsafe behaviours and change to safe behaviours.
- Realise what domestic and family violence is, and how it affects the ones you love.
- Do something about stopping your abuse.
- See your strengths.

All without judgement.

Building Stronger Families

Men's Behaviour Change Program in Arabic

A collaboration between Relationships Australia and Settlement Services International. We'll help you build family relationships that are strong, caring and respectful.

The Building Stronger Families Program supports men to build relationships based on safety, trust, and respect. Men will be supported to reflect on their abusive behaviours within relationships in a safe and supportive environment. The program offers an all of family approach in supporting families who are experiencing domestic violence.
